

Screening Questions

1. What are your career goals?

I believe that every career is a good career as long as we really enjoy the work. But since I would be looking for an answer for the future in testing, then I would learn many new skills and try to grow to be expert in automation testing and DevOps.

There are tons of opportunities for skilled software quality engineers and my career goal is in the near time I want to become a QA lead and will be promoted to QA Manager for the product. It will take a couple of years to reach till there

2. What are you really good at professionally?

I'm good at communication. I'm able to communicate with technical and non-technical people, engineers, managers, and customers.

I'm curious and want to know how everything works. I like to know the end-to-end functionalities

I'm a good observer and pay attention to details

3. What are you not good at or not interested in doing professionally?

I am not good at concentrating on 2 things that are actually important at the same time. I tend to give priority to one thing, once it has done I can continue with the other things

I take around 2-3 times longer than an average person to learn a language. Out of 100 I'm probably in the bottom 70.

4. Who were your last 2 bosses and how will they each rate your performance on a 1-10 scale when we talk to them?

I'm still learning every day. Though it has been 6+ years since I started working on this, I still cannot be satisfied with myself, for there's always something new out there. I still cannot give myself a 10 out of 10.

5. Why Brick / why startups?

- a) I can get to learn a lot of stuff, for example I can get to learn many things while working in startups which is generally not the case while working with bigger companies.
- b) I can have the opportunity to build something innovative and meaningful that can have a lasting effect on society.

- c) Being close to the business, I will feel more achievement when I see our product shipped and millions of people using it or a big company using your product.

6. Notice period?

2 months notice period

7. English score (1-10)?

My English score is 7
